Coalition Climat Montréal hosts community conversation on climate change, income security

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE 03/05/2022

MONTREAL: Coalition Climat Montréal has completed a community conversation on the links between climate change, income security and community resilience in the greater Montréal area.

Organized in partnership with the Green Resilience Project, the conversation aimed to identify and document a wide range of perspectives on what community members need to build resilience and encourage local action on all the aspects of the climate crisis.

Climate change and income insecurity are two of the most urgent challenges facing Montréal residents. The conversation brought community members together to discuss the connections between these issues, brainstorm solutions and identify what they need to put them into action.

Details from the conversation will be shared in the Green Resilience Project's final report, to be published in April 2022.

The Green Resilience Project is managed and delivered by Energy Mix Productions, Basic Income Canada Network, Coalition Canada Basic Income - Revenu de base, Basic Income Canada Youth Network, national experts and local partners. Funding is generously provided by Environment and Climate Change Canada's Climate Action and Awareness Fund.

La Coalition Climat Montréal fait la promotion de la neutralité carbone pour Montréal d'ici 2042 auprès des élus municipaux, des entreprises, des organisations et des citoyens. La Coalition base ses actions sur quatre piliers: budget carbone, inventaire des émissions de GES, test climat et participation citoyenne.
